

Writing with Sensory Details

Sensory words are descriptive. They describe how we experience the world by showing how we smell, see, hear, feel or taste something. Re-write this paragraph by adding sensory detail. Choose from the words in the word bank below or come up with your own sensory words.

On the way home from school, Kara's mom stopped at a local bakery. Her mother often brought her there on Friday afternoons for a treat. The aroma of the bakery's cakes reminded Kara of her Grandmother's house. These outings were the perfect escape from the winter's air.
